

About

The Library at The Royal Danish Academy of Music is designed by Vilhelm Lauritzen Architects in 2008, when the Music Academy moved in to the former Radiohouse. As an integral part of the Academy, the library provides both students and teachers with the facilities and materials that they need. The library is also open to the public, but some of the facilities are only for students and staff at the RDAM.

The library offers modern AV facilities, places for reading and relaxing sofas.

Opening hours

Self service for students and staff:

Information
and regulations

Welcome to the library

In the library you will find a large collection of sheet music and scores, music literature and recordings. Most of the materials can be checked out via the electronic self-service system. During staffed opening hours, there is a knowledgeable library staff member who can help you search for, locate, or order what you need.

Facilities

We have several study spaces and a lounge with comfortable sofas for reading newspapers and journals in the Lounge Hall.

The Media Hall is open to students and staff at the RDAM. Here you can listen to CD's and concert recordings, find a quiet place for studying, use the computers and access databases such as Naxos Music and Video Library, MET Online, RILM and Oxford Music Online.

Our soundproof AV room for 14 people can be booked by students and staff for group work, meetings, and shared experiences such as opera performances on a large screen with surround sound.

User registration

If you would like to check out materials from the library, you need to create an account. We will ask you to show your Danish Social Security card which will also be your library card. Once you are registered in our system, you can check out materials as you please using the library self-service system. Please note that you are personally responsible for all materials checked out in your name.

Loan period, reservation, and renewal

The loan period for students and staff at the Royal Danish Academy of Music is 2 months and for external users it is 1 month.

Long-term loans for certain materials can be arranged. Please talk to the staff. The loan period for magazines is 14 days. Current issues are not available for loan.

You can renew borrowed materials up to 2 times if nobody else needs them. This can be done on the library self-service system or online through the library website or the RDAM intranet.

It is important that you always keep your contact information updated, so we can get in touch with you.

Recall notices and liability

If you exceed your loan period, we will send you up to 2 recall notices. If we don't hear from you, we consider the material lost and a claim will be sent for the material plus an administration fee of DKK 150. If you owe DKK 200 or more, you cannot borrow until the amount is paid.

Please ...

- Respect the loan period.
- Check your user status regularly.
- Keep your contact information updated.
- Show consideration for other users in the library.
- Do not write in library materials.
- Follow us on the intranet or on: dkdm.dk/en/rdams-library
