The pieces in this program have all been written during my time as a composition student at The Royal Danish Academy of Music.

Together they represent some of the things I've been preoccupied with during the past few years, such as audiovisuality and developing methods for merging acoustic instruments and electronic sounds.

The musicians performing the pieces are Fei Nie, Kalle Hakosalo, and Lorenzo Colombo. They form the group NEKO<sub>3</sub>, with whom I've been incredibly fortunate to build a close relationship.

Thanks to Niels Rosing-Schow, Hans Peter Stubbe Teglbjærg, Jeppe Just Christensen, and my other teachers at the academy for the valuable musical advice they have provided me with during my time as a student.

Also thank you to the academy's administrative and technical staff for helping me put together this concert.
